Security Selection

The Trust's portfolio is constructed and the securities were selected 6 business days prior to the initial date of deposit (the "Inception Date") using the Security Selection Rules outlined below.

Security Selection Rules:

In constructing the Trust's portfolio, 25 securities will be selected based on the following fundamentally based quantitative criteria:

- Begin with all securities in the S&P 1500 Composite Index.
- Each security in the index is scored based within its respective sector on the three financial factors listed below using a scale of 1 through 10 (1 representing the highest ranked 10% in the sector, and 10 representing the lowest ranked 10% in the sector): return on assets; earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA")/enterprise value; and sales per share growth.
- Exclude securities that are: included in the S&P 1000 Index; do not pay a regular dividend; have an average daily price volume less than $600,000 over the prior 20 trading days; have a pending cash only merger and acquisition or other corporate action events which will lead to the delisting of the security from the qualifying exchange listed above; and have the lowest 25% combined financial scores on the above three financial factors.
- Rank the remaining stocks by dividend yield from highest to lowest.
- Select an approximately equally weighted portfolio of the 25 stocks with the highest dividend yield and a maximum sector weighting of 20% as of the selection date.

Please note that due to the fluctuating nature of security prices, the weighting of an individual security or sector in the Trust portfolio may change after the portfolio selection date.

INDEX DEFINITION: The S&P Composite 1500 Index combines three leading indices - S&P 500, S&P MidCap 400 and S&P SmallCap 600 - to form an investable benchmark of the U.S. equity market. Covering approximately 85% of the U.S. market capitalization, S&P Composite 1500 offers investors an index with the familiar characteristics of the S&P 500 but with broader market exposure. The S&P 1000 Index combines two leading indices, the S&P MidCap 400 and the S&P SmallCap 600, to form an investable benchmark for the mid-small cap universe of the U.S. equity market. The S&P 1000 Index measures the performance of widely available and highly liquid stocks. This makes the S&P 1000 the appropriate mid-small cap index for investors seeking to replicate the performance of the U.S. equity market or serve as a benchmark for a universe of tradable stocks. Indexes are unmanaged and it is not possible to invest directly in an index.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS As with all investments, you may lose some or all of your investment in the Trust. No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objective will be achieved.

The Trust also might not perform as well as you expect. This can happen for reasons such as these: • Securities prices can be volatile. • Due to the current state of the economy, the value of the securities held by the Trust may be subject to steep declines or increased volatility due to changes in performance or perception of the issuers. • Share prices or dividend rates on the securities in the Trust may decline during the life of the Trust. • The Trust includes securities of companies in the consumer products sector. General risks of companies in the consumer products sector include cyclicalities of revenues and earnings, economic recession, currency fluctuations, changing consumer tastes, extensive competition, product liability litigation and increased government regulation. A weak economy and its effect on consumer spending would adversely affect companies in the consumer products sector. • The Trust includes real estate investment trusts ("REITs"). REITs may concentrate their investments in specific geographic areas or in specific property types. The value of the REITs and other real estate securities and the ability of such securities to distribute income may be adversely affected by several factors beyond the control of the issuer of the security. • The Trust invests in securities issued by mid-capitalization companies which customarily involve more investment risk than securities of larger capitalization companies. Mid-capitalization companies may have limited product lines, markets or financial resources and may be more vulnerable to adverse general market or economic developments. • Inflation may lead to a decrease in the value of assets or income from investments. • The Sponsor does not actively manage the portfolio. The Trust will generally hold, and may, when creating additional units, continue to buy, the same securities even though a security's outlook, market value or yield may have changed. Please see the Trust prospectus for more complete risk information.

Unit Investment Trusts ("UITs") are fixed and not actively managed. An investment in this fixed portfolio should be made with an understanding of the risks involved with owning various types of investments. Industry predictions may not materialize and securities selected for the Trust may not participate in overall industry growth, if any. Units, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original purchase price.

This UIT is part of a long-term strategy. Consult an attorney or tax advisor regarding tax consequences associated with an investment from one series to the next, if available. Investors should consult their tax advisor to determine tax consequences associated with the purchase or sale of units. Guggenheim Funds Distributors, Inc. does not offer tax advice.

Consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and ongoing expenses of the UIT carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information about the UIT. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing.
